

Eden Training Solutions

“The progress monitoring has ensured we are keeping learners engaged so they can take full advantage of the support available.”

Kelly Davison
Director of Business Development

Background

Eden Training Solutions is an independent learning provider based in the United Kingdom. It specialises in the delivery of apprenticeship programmes for Levy and Non- Levy (SME) organisations and key areas of provision are Childcare, Fitness, Retail and Professional Services. Over 1,200 learners study with Eden Training Solutions and the company is committed to supporting all learners within its provision.

The need for a solution

Eden Training Solutions needed to find a solution to the problem of monitoring, documenting and recording evidence of additional learning needs. Their learning consultants carried out a significant amount of work with learners but the organisation found it difficult to evidence this to a sufficient level to allow them to claim Government funding to support those learners.

Director of Business Development, Kelly Davison described the situation:

“We do great work, but we needed to find an appropriate system that would support sufficient evidencing to access funding, as well as provide the learners with specialist resources.”

The solution in action

Eden Training Solutions now uses Cognassist to identify and support its learners with additional learning needs. Kelly explains how using Cognassist has been of benefit to the learning provider:

“We are now in a position whereby our learners have access to excellent resources and tools that they need to help them develop both through education, professionally and personally. The reporting is fantastic, as it allows Eden Training Solutions to access funding we previously would not have been able to, despite the fantastic work being done.

In addition, Cognassist has proved a success with learners. As Kelly says:

“The progress monitoring has ensured we are keeping learners engaged so they can take full advantage of the support available. Our learners have said how much they like the online, short and snappy video content, how user- friendly the platform is and how there is new content added constantly.”

- ▶ Eden Training Solutions has supported many of its apprentices using Cognassist and the solution has benefited both the organisation and its learners.